Introduction of the Board

Thank you to Jeannette Gavin

Belmont Shore Aquatic Center: Planning Committee delaying the prospect because of the objection needing height poles.

Proposed Land Use Plan Meeting — As population increases, you have to provide more housing for people. One solution: Add three stories on Toledo between Claremont and Livingston. Suzie Price is not for this. In order to comply: must add 1 and 1/4 parking spaces, so not possible.

Happy Birthday Kathy Berry

Updates from Jack Cunningham — Council member Suzie Price's Chief of Staff

• Homelessness — moving forward with solutions. Few suggestions — how apply: panhandling: "If done in an aggressive fashion"…trying to make it less difficult for police to enforce. By limiting their ability to successfully panhandle, may motivate panhandler to accept city services.

• Living in parks: If add a dog park, makes it less attractive for homeless to live. They want to be separate.

• Bikes as a currency: New regulations for better bike registration…online, make it easier for police to enforce the law and finding owner.

• Creating more housing in the city.

• Hotlines to get resources (mental health calls vs. police) for residents

• Nov 10th Seaport Hotel on SeaSip, 6:00 pm

Exploring the Development Plans for the corner of PCH and Second Street — Alex Cherin, Raymond Linn (owner of Seaport Hotel property), Jean Paul Wardy and Steve Shaul (from CenterCal Development Team)

• Site plan: Town center village feel. 220,000 sq feet. Outward facing restaurants on Marina and PCH. Whole Foods featured on the corner. Water fountain, Spanish steps, seating. Parking on roof structure of Whole Foods and other stores/restaurants. Embracing Marina views on South side. These development plans fit with the city ordinances for SeaDip. Nov 19th Community Open House: Meet the Neighbors, at Seaport Hotel. Projected opening, Fall 2018.

East Ocean Boulevard Traffic and Parking Study — Colleen Bentley

• Residents asked that crosswalks and stop signs be put up because people couldn't cross the street. Recommended lane reduction to slow down traffic, stop signs weren't working. Proposal for unmetered diagonal parking on beach side of Ocean. Suzie Price made commitment to try for one year. Easy to repaint and make changes: One car lane and bike lane on ocean side; two lanes on resident side.

• Colleen: let's give it a chance. It's only paint. Very little parking on Pomona when Bay Shore is closed. Diagonal parking on South side of Ocean makes sense. Suzie Price asked engineer to not put diagonal parking on both sides. Traffic engineers will monitor this very closely.
